THE FATAL FIVE

ACT Policing is warning that road users should always be aware of what impact their behaviour can have on road safety and it has issued a reminder about the five highest contributing factors to fatal incidents on ACT roads. Don't speed; don't drive distracted by your phone or anything else in your car; don't use your car if you are impaired by drugs or alcohol; wear your seat belt and do the right thing at intersections.

ACT Policing figures show that police issued more than 2761 Traffic Infringement Notices for traffic offences relating to the Fatal Five in the first four months of 2019.
